Prayer for the month

A favourite Celtic prayer of mine that speaks of something beyond: the peace of God that passes all understanding yet runs through all things

Deep peace of the running wave to you.
Deep peace of the flowing air to you.
Deep peace of the quiet earth to you.
Deep peace of the shining stars to you.
Deep peace of the infinite peace to you.

From your Rector

Dear Friends,

Over breakfast this morning I was listening to some discussion on the radio around the Olympic Games which begin one year from today. Guests on the programme spoke of the buildings and venues, the cost and the legacy that would be left – in 20 years time what would that be?

This prompted me to reflect on our church building – St Margaret's celebrates 115 years this year. Over these 115 years our building has been a very visible and beautifully proportioned sign of Christian witness in this community and I don't think that anyone at the time would even have considered the legacy that they were leaving. Those responsible for the planning and construction of our lovely church and then building of the community who worshipped here were following Jesus' command to "go into all the world and proclaim the good news to the whole creation" (Mark 16: 15).

I suspect that many more people walk up our path than did way back 115 years ago; they may not all be coming to worship with us but they are people we reach out to through their use of our Dickson Hall. Who knows some of them may have had parents, grandparents or even great grandparents who worshipped with us during their lifetime.

Wouldn't it be good to include all of these people in some form of celebration to mark our 115 years? Can you please have a think about what we might do, our Vestry meets in early September so there are a few weeks to generate ideas while we sit in the garden and enjoy this nice weather!

With love and prayers, Christine

From our Service Registers

A few months ago Janette undertook a project to go through our service registers and the results of her sterling work is a list of the names of people whose funerals have taken place in St Margaret's over the years. It is good to remember those who have gone before us, many of whom have left their mark in this place in many ways – their legacy. I will include in our newsletters those whose anniversary of death falls during the period of the current newsletter.

This month can we please remember in our prayers: Dennis Burns, Elizabeth Ann Greig and Rena Powell.
